

1. People who use this software are either procrastinating on Stage 6 or want to spend some time exercising their brain with a game of chess.
2. You will be using this to have fun and improve your chess skills. In playing this game, you will successfully distract yourself from the harsh realities of life.
3. The user will be able to fully immerse himself in the thinking that is necessary to play a good game of chess, which will in turn prevent him from thinking too much about his other worries. He will also have fun while doing this.
4. He uses it by inputting moves into the system on his turns, and the system will record his moves. He will go through the steps of choosing which piece he wants to move and to where. This will involve typing the location of the moveable piece, and then the location of where it is being moved to, provided that it is legal.